The time it takes for a genealogist or historian to digitize and organize will save time in the future. Our speaker, Kelli Bergheimer, will discuss tips and tricks to organize your papers, photos, documents, research, DNA cousins, research trips, and digital records. In addition, you will learn some common backup tools to protect what you have acquired. Organize yourself in a way that leaves you more time for the fun stuff of genealogy-- sharing, publishing, and finding even more!
