Today's Topic: Death records can be a valuable resource for genealogy research, providing details about a person's life that may not be found in any other record. Sue Mueller will talk about what death records are in the public domain and where to find them. Locating and using death indices, certificates, and obituaries, in addition to cemeteries and funeral homes, with an emphasis on free online resources, will be the focus of Sue's discussion.

About the speaker: While Sue Mueller grew up in New Jersey, both of her parents' families are from Pennsylvania, and Sue now lives in northwest Pennsylvania. She is a retired educator/administrator who has been seriously working on her family genealogy since the mid 1990s. Sue has lived in Girard, Pennsylvania, for 48 years and has been working seriously on genealogy for more than 25 years. She has used Family Tree Maker since 1996, including being a beta tester starting in 2012. Sue teaches monthly genealogy classes for the Erie County Public Library in Pennsylvania.
